January 2019

Our chapter's year started back in September 2018, and so far, it has been a great one! We hope you have enjoyed all the events thus far. The fall started off strong with the Annual Golf Tournament, which was again held at Cyprian Keys. This year's tournament included 97 players and a net donation of $6,000 to the A.L. Brown Scholarship Fund. Thank you to everyone who came out and participated this year.

At our October meeting, we were proud to present A.L. Brown scholarships to the following individuals:

$3,000 Scholarship: Jenna Troio
$2,000 Scholarships: Madison West, Alex Riley and Xiaoyue Pi

The SFPE NEC is happy to announce that we are now a provider of continuing education credits, certified by the American Institute of Architects. That means you can now receive continuing education credits for attending our monthly meetings and the annual seminar.

The board hopes that events like this, along with the increased donation levels for the A.L. Brown Scholarship Fund, will promote further interest in the fire sciences among students from around New England. Applications for the A.L. Brown Scholarship are due February 25, 2019. Please visit the SFPE NEC website for additional information and to apply!

Thank you everyone, and we hope to see you all soon!

The 2018/2019 SFPE-NEC Board

Mark your calendars for our upcoming chapter meetings which includes the 2019 SFPE-NEC Annual Seminar in April – more details to come soon.

In December, we again hosted Trivia & Technology Night which has come to be a very popular annual event. Thank you to all the manufacturers that came out to show off their technology. Congratulations to the 2018 trivia winners, pictured above.
